Other Books by the same Author

1. The Inimitable and Physical Sciences:

A serious study of some of the scientific phenomenon that find mention in the Qur'ān. Widely supported by illustrations. Only such facts have been selected which find mention in the Qur'ān in inambiguous terms. Reviewed by four scientists before publication, the 200-page book offers food for thought to the intellectual class of readers.

2. Muhammad the Unlettered Prophet Who Changed the World in 23 years.

With introduction by Abul Hasan Ali Nadwi, it is an extremely simple, but comprehensive biography of Prophet Muhammad in 100 pages. Repeatedly reprinted.

3. A Biography of the Prophet in the Light of the Original Sources

Originally in Arabic, by Dr. Mahdi Rizq Allah, translated into Arabic, it is an authenticated work in 2 volumes, with thousands of isnad- related notes and other references in footnotes. Published by Darussalam, Riyadh

4. The Fundamentals of Islamic Creed

What are the fundamental articles of faith, without which a man cannot be a Muslim? Translation of Imām Tahāwi's text and Ibn abi al-'Izz's commentary (abridged) – 300 pages

5. Islam, the Religion You can no longer Ignore

A very successful short introduction to Islām. 60 pages. Repeatedly reprinted.

6. Fake Pearls

A collection of 250 ahadīth taken from 5 different hadīth collections that are either fabricated, or very weak, with notes on reasons of such evaluation.

7. Bilal, the Abyssinian Outrunner

Life of Bilal written in a story style, but within the parameters of historical evidences. 100 pages.

8. A Short History of Israel

With introduction by Abul Hasan Ali Nadwi, it presents the history of the Jews from the Abrahamic times until the end of the last century – 100 pages

9. An Introduction to the Arabic Language through Islamic Texts

In two volumes, 700 pages, and two DVDs containing audio-explanations, dictionaries, and several other interesting features. It teaches the Arabic language with the help of texts taken from Qur'ān, Hadīth, and other Islamic source books. Being used as text-book in some institutions. Published by Al-Attique Publications, Canada.

10. Abul Hasan Ali Nadwi

A short, but comprehensive biography, but well-appreciated biography of Syed Abul Hasan Ali al-Nadwi in 110 pages.

11. Hadīth of the Night Vision

A translation of Ibn Rajab's Book in Arabic, on one of the dreams of Prophet Muhammad, and its commentary – Pocket-size, 130 pages.

12. The Splitter of the Dawn

A collection of Qur'ānic verses that deal with the fundamentals of Islām, meant for non-Muslims as an introduction to the Qur'ān. Several times reprinted, it is a useful booklet for Da`wah purposes – Pocket-size, 130 pages.

13. I Would like to Repent .. But

Translation into English of a short work by Sheikh Muhammad al-Munajjid.

14: An Educational Encyclopedia of Islam

A comprehensive work in 1300 pages, 3 volumes, covering all aspects of general need and interest. Trustworthy, authentic, with hundreds of graphic works and epigrams, it happens to be the first such work in English at a Muslim's hand. Its maps, though not very artistic, but are the first of their kind. Its third volume awaits publication.

15: Islamic Code of Practice for the Medical Profession

Translation of the Arabic original prepared by the World Assembly of Muslim Youth, Eastern Province, it surpasses in scope and application the Codes of Medical Practices by which doctors take oath in most countries of the world. 40 pages.

16: Looking for God? Get Reasonable

Briefly but convincingly, this little book presents evidences in favor of God's existence, while refuting arguments against it from a rational and logical point of view. It does not shy away from latest atheistic arguments, and does not hide behind superficial homilies. Popularly adopted as primary books for Da`wah purposes. 56 pages.

17: Hadīth Rejection, a Critical Review

The work exposes the fallacious nature of the claims laid out by the rejecters of Hadīth – both from among the Orientalists, as well as their followers from among the Muslims – and demonstrates skillfully that the doubts raised by both the classes have little scholarly value. 96 pages.

18: Usul al-Fiqh (Principles of Islamic Jurisprudence)

Few non-scholarly Muslims are aware that the extraction of Law from the Qur’ān, the Sunnah and a few other minor sources is based on such solid principles as which cannot be shaken from the positions they occupy. This scholarly book is a short introduction to these principles. 110 pages.
